KING CUEST OF AMERICAN

Entertain His Majesty.

King Edward Refuses to Let Him Resign Place in Royal Household-Leopold's Daughter on Visit.

LONDON, Sept. 26 - (Special.) - Directly the king arrives in Scotland he has promised to spend the day with Captain and Mrs. Beatty at Invercauld. Although a comparatively small mansion, invercauld fetches the largest rent of any house in Scotland, owing to its proximity to Balmoral. From it the view is matchless and the schooling is far better than on the leased by Captain David Beatty and his American wife last year they have lavished a fortune on the preserves. The fiat has gone forth that no shooting is to take place at Ivercauld until the arrival of the king, the host and hostess desiring each season that he should have the privil- don to call upon him for that purpose. ions the king and any guests he may have that he said when the American governdirectly after breakfast. The party is met he would take up his abode here. the "guns" from Ivercauld and shooting is engaged in until luncheon. This is which is practically never served in these was obtained by his majesty's thoughtful death knocked all the ambition out of he thought you'd like best. Of course he hostess on the last occasion of King Edward's visit to her.

When Miss Mary Hasell, daughter of arrives here as the bride of George Bor wick, son of Sir George Borwick, she will houses in Berkeley Square. It is now in present arrangements the wedding is fixed for December and the Borwick family. including the bridegroom's parents, Sir Robert and Lady Borwick, are going over for it. The Borwicks are a very wesithy family and move with the best set, so the bride elect will have a very big position socially. Mr. George Borwick has political aspirations and his friends believe there is a future for him. With an American wife to help him no doubt his road will be made easy. He is a fine shot and has done a great deal of big game shooting. There was an idea that "Johnny" Ward would resign his post in the royal household on his marriage to the daughter of the American ambassador. But his majesty would not hear of it. "You are indispensable to me," said the king. "I have allowed you to take the longest honeymoon on record and now I expect you to attend to me. I have missed you more

New York Girl to Wed.

The Dudley family, from the beautiful Georgina downwards, have all been first favorites with the king and queen and the Hon, Johnny who has the best spirits and, like the Marquis de Soveral, is a first rate hand at telling a story is a very special friend of the king, who before all things delights in the company of lively entertainothers around him. When recently asked how it was he managed to keep so youthful, Edward replied, "The secret to it is, surround yourself with a younger generation than your own and to live up to it."

Mrs, Ward One of King's Guests. heart of hearts, at all pleased with the has seen no alteration in the arrangements idea of her husband having to be at the to cope with changed conditions. beck and call of the king, but she is makvery great distinction, as at the king's nation of the streets.

intimate friends are invited. Princess Clemintine, the youngest and only keep the lights going all night long. On provided punishment does not follow, often numarried daughter of the King of the the other hand, friends of the councillors results in strange acts. I have just heard Belgians, is very shortly coming to stay urge that the fault really lies with the ad- of a case of a young peasant boy of eightat Surrender Park, Kent, as the guest of ministrators who waste the money alloted een, who reported to the gendarmes of a Walter Winans. The American millionaire to lighting. Some years ago, new, up-to- village in Mohyhew that his fatcher had was presented to the princess in August at date burners were installed in a great num- been murdered. The father's body was Spa, and at her special request he took her ber of the lamp-posts with the result that found, terribly mutilated. A hatchet lay to see his thirty odd magnificent horses a saving of $15,000 was effected in the light- close by covered with blood. A few queswhich he brought over for the horse show. Ing bill of the city. It is estimated that if tions elicited the fact that the only per-The princess was much impressed with the these economical burners were introduced son who had been near the dead man was heauty of Mr. Winan's stud and then and all over the city enough money would be his son, who ultimately admitted having there he invited her to be his guest at his saved to satisfactorily light the streets of killed his father. The boy's behavior durpalatial palace in Kent. It is many years Paris from sunset to sunrise. gince Princess Clementine visited these

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name-"Golden Medical Discovery" was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients - Golden

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce dis-covered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by tain degree of constantly maintained beat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native me-dicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or billousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever sinae has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance state ful list of its ingredients, printed on beery bottle-wrapper, will show that it is hade from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endopsement from the leading medical experts. Eachers and writes on Muscial All the sold who recommend them as the very test remedies for the diseases for which Goden Medica. Discovery is advised. A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from

From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the differstandard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompained with catarrhal discharges, hoarsoness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Dis-covery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will ours the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken to time.

constant guest of the late Queen Victoria. She has broken completely with her father, the king of the Belgians, since his Daughter of Late Marshall Field Will morganatic marriage. Owing to the flascos the different members of her family have made of their matrimontal affairs she has developed into a confirmed old HON. "JOHNNY" WARD FAVORITE maid. She is very unconventional and is said to have taken a great fancy to her future American hos

O'Brien Vista London. On his way to Tokio Thomas J. O'Brien. the new American ambassador to Japan took the opportunity of renewing his acquaintance in London. Although his visit was in the dead of the season he neverthe less made good use of his time and 'did' the sights with the enthusiasm of a tourist. People who met him say he has all the fervor of an Irishman and the energy and enterprise of an American, and jects-40 per cent of whom can neither read that the government which has selected him for his new post put the right man amusing and some of grimmest tragedy, in the right place. He paid a visit to Lord Strathcona at royal preservres, as since it has been Park. While in town he went to a theater Knebworth and also to the Reids at Wrest sometimes twice a day and in all his spare moments shopped incessantly. He also found time to perfect himself in the Japanese language, taking lessons at easy intervals from a gentleman who was deputed by the Japanese legation in Lonege of firing the first shot. On these occas- London fascinated him so during his visit staying with him at the Castle walk across ment had no further use for his services, Lardy Suffolk cares nothing for society with a big S. Her own relations, to whom particular sumptuous repast, at which she is devoted, and a few intimate friends, Mrs. Beatty manages to introduce a sur- are about all she ever cares to entertain. prise dish for King Edward. Last year She has taken a lease of Redcastle for the her treat was "grilled fogosch," an item autumn and with her there is her mother, Mrs. Leiter, who does not propse to rent islands. It is a delicacy much beloved by any place in Scotland this year. All Lord the king, who favors it when he is staying Curson's little girls are also her guests at Marienbad, where by all accounts it is and their father makes flying visits north lingly toward the west, while the crowd served to perfection. Mrs. Beatty sent a when he gets the time. Lady Suffolk has special messenger abroad for this fish been seriously ill, but is now happily betwhich arrived carefully packed in ice on ter. Her friends say she has a constitution the morning his majesty was expected as frall as that of her sister, the late Lady There is a special white wine which is Curson, and that she will always have to drank with this delicacy and which can be very careful. Not long ago Lady Suf- that. He means to reward you, and reonly be procured in Austria. This, too, folk remarked to an intimate. "Mary's cently sent for the excise man to ask what mother and me."

Since that date it has been observed that Mrs. Leiter never settles for long in any one place. She is always on the move. Mrs. Lewis Gruger Hasell of New York Her stay with her daughter will be brief.

Proportion to Degree of Darkness.

PARIS. Sept. 25 .- (Special.) - Parisians, and especially those who are compelled by circumstances to be out after midnight are agitating for a better illumination of the with vodka, the man at the kabak (inn) insisted upon his doing so under pain of public streets. Unlike London, Paris does not retire to bed at midnight and the thousands of pleasure seekers and even business people who frequent its streets far into the small hours of the morning have protested against the order of the municipal authorities extinguishing, at the stroke of 12, 14,807 of the 58,491 lamps which light the streets of the city. Even the Grande boulevards, crowded as they are with life long after midnight are notoriously dark and gloomy after the closing of the shops and cafes, the brilliantly lighted windows of which reflect their glow into the street in the earlier hours of the

In some of the other large streets conditions of light are even worse than on the Grande boulevards. The prefect of police some time ago reported that at 3 o'clock in the morning on the Boulevard St. Germain four out of every five lamplights were extinguished. In many streets in the residential quarter which depend upon gas for illumination the lamps are not lit until This is due to the fact that some of the pedition, and nobody owned he had set out lamplighters have such long posts that they are unable to make the round in less than four hours. The lighting of gas forty-five years ago and the enormous of the inhabitants of the next and the ARMY OF ENGLISH BARMAIDS The Hon. Mrs. Ward is not, in her growth of certain districts since that time bottles destined for vodka were broken

The anxiety of the native Parisian over ing the best of it. She is fully aware that the ilumination of his streets is undoubther husband knows more of the king's inner edly due to the alarming increase of tered to walk home that night returned. life and "state secrets" than any man of Apache crimes. It is in the poorly lighted sadder, but wiser men. The more seriously the present day and in the circumstances districts that the vicious criminals hold injured ones lay in ditches till their sore there is nothing to do but to accept the sway. The prefect of police goes so far as ness had healed. inevitable. She is to be one of the king's to trace a direct ratio between crimes of guesis when the court goes to Balmoral, a the hold-up order and the degree of illumi- Piasenko and the adjoining villages any house parties in Scotland only his most | The fault seems to be with the Municipal Council of the Seine who refuse to vote It is rumored on good authority that enough money to permit the prefect to mingled with a half savage love of crime.

THAMES BOATS TO BE SOLD Council to Be Tried as Private Enterprise.

LONDON, Sept. 26 - (Special.) - After several months of fruitiess search, the Loneighteen months plied up and down the negotiations go through without a hitch, and, probably, more competent manage-to the new company for about $10,000 would be meted out to him. At last he told spiece. The London taxpayers, less than the priest he thought of killing his father, two years ago, paid something like $35,000 as that seemed to him the greatest possible aplece for the boats, and they are not crime. He bore no grudge against his parviewing with equanimity the loss of almost | ent, "but," he said, "it seemed too good $750,000 represented by the difference in the a chance to throw away. I planned it for two figures. But the boats in their present | a long time, as it was hard to be alone it would not be long before they would be were always in the hut, and they would fit for little better than the scrapheap, get no pardon from the czar, as they were Less than a month ago the council was all older than 21. To the very day scraping, overhauling and renovating them the csar's pardon would come, and told face to possible purchasers. The Thames service steamers was one one day he would get it. If his sentence of the pet schemes of the progressives, the is ever shortened by a coronation, or birthmajority of whom have given evidence of day manifesto, he will certainly believe decided socialistic leanings. The failure of that it was the long-lost pardon coming the steamers to pay their way and the from the czar. enormous loss to the taxpayers was one of the reasons for the downfall of the party at the last local election and one of the ago at Vilna, where there are large baring into power was to call off the service. in the course of time the service, as it be-

Their Amazing Gullibility Leads to Many Queer Things.

KEY TO MYSTERY OF RUSSIA

Commercial Traveler Upacts munity with Yarn About Free Vodka-Crime Committed for Pardon.

MOSCOW, Sept. M .- (Special.)-Nothing could illustrate more significantly the hopeless credulity and guilibility of a large perpertion of the czar's "backwoods" subnor write-than a bandful of tales, some that have lately come to the writer's notice. You get between the lines of them a glimpse of the real conditions that make Russia a mystery to the outside world. In many of the remotest Russian towns the small commercial traveler, or factor, as he is called, is depended on chiefly by the natives for news of the outside world. A short time ago one of these factors arrived at the village of Piasenko, in the government of Volhynia, where he was met by an eager crowd and pestered for news. There was none to tell, but for a factor to say he has no news, is, in Russia, paramount to a chancellor of the exchequer saying the country is bankrupt, so the factor-whose name was Szmul-scratched his head and tooked very wise. "Well," he said, finally, "it's such a piece of news as never was, and I don't know if I ought to tell it, because the excise man said it coaxed him to continue. At last he spoke; "You see, gentlemen," he began, "the cgar, seems, is very pleased with all the men in Volhynia. They sit quiet and don't en courage the socialists, and the czar likes ought to be kept a secret."

Samul sat in his cart, blowing cigarette

said 'vodka. Free Vodka from Caar, Here a murmur of delight interrupted him. Then he went on: "The caar said you should have free can carry."

though the traveler was not forgotten, he the others burned to death. pressing business there all that might possibly hold liquid. At first the assembled multitude waited patiently enough, but when the sun rose Everybody blamed his neighbor for the of his own free will. As the factor had doubtless expected, the meeting ended in a tremendous fight, in which the inhabitants ers, who had dispensed free hospitality the night before, vainly strove to get their money back. Those who were not too bat

Szmul, the factor, does not pass through

Looked for Pardon for Crime. The credulity of the czar's subjects ing the subsequent trial was so quiet and indifferent that the judges remarked upon it. When sentenced to 20 years' exile in Siberia, (the heaviest sentence that can be Socialist Scheme of London County imposed except under martial law) he became terribly excited, and declared that it could not possibly be true because the czar had promised to pardon him.

The lad was regarded as insane, but the priest who visited him learned that he had don county council has at last discovered gone to a fair some weeks before the murpersone who has promised to buy its der and met a "prorok" (a kind of prophet) thirty passenger steamboats which for who had told him his future in consideration of a present of eggs. According to Thames. Londoners used them so seldom the wise man, the lad was under the special and the management was so bad that there protection of the czar, and could do anywas a constantly growing deficit, and the thing he liked without being punished for service was finally stopped and the boats it, because the ruler had just issued an laid up to rot in the Surrey Commercial ukase to the effect that he would forgive docks. Now, should the present promising all his male subjects under 21 for any crime they might commit within the folthe service will be resumed under private lowing six months. The lad, who had hitherto been a quiet sort of boy, set to racking his brains as to what big crime The present intention is to sell the boats he might commit, since no punishment condition are fast failing into decay and with him-some of my brothers or sisters compelled to spend a considerable sum in of his starting for the mines, he hoped In order that they might present a better the priest he was sure that the people entrusted with it had been killed, and that

> Murder for Chance to Confess. A similar case happened a week or two for some time at the kitchen door the learned from the cook within that she ould not open because it was locked from the outside. The policemen forced the door and when they got into the general's bed room a terrible sight met their eyes The general lay on the bed with a broken skull and on the floor was his wife, with several wounds on her head. The latter was still conscious and able to say that the murderers were soldiers. Near the house the police found a supper's hatchet and on the outskirts of the wood a so dier's boot, a blood-stained shirt and a regimental permission to leave, made out n the name of Nicholas Lauszkin, a soldier in the Second battallon of sappers. A few minutes later Lauszkin and another soldler, Lucyn, appeared in the barracks without having attempted to remove the traces of blood from their clothing. Lauszkin, in reply to questions, said he had been to see his wife, who served as cook to General Bykowski, and Lucyn admitted he had also been there, because he was engaged to be married to the general's house maid. Both men and the women were immediately arrested and confessed to having stolen 26 roubles ($13) from the room where the murder was committed few days afterward. The most remarkable part of the story is the reasons each one gave for committing the crime. Lucyn said he had behaved like a wild beast, but that he did it because he was drunk, and begged for time to confess his sins to God before he was punished. It would take a long time, he said, as he had a great many things on his conscience. His betrothed the housemaid, said she did not know why she had helped to murder her master and mistress, because they had been very good to her; she thought it was because the cook and her husband went into the room to kill them and she did not want to be left alone. The cook and Lauszkin said they did it because it was near Easter time and the priests always said that whoever confesses and repents of his sins at Easter time is forgiven. They meant to go to church and confess the next day. The manner in which the soldiers left traces of their guilt and walked into the barracks a few hours after the crime is quite in keeping with their certainty that they would not be punished for their crimes. To their amazement they were all sentenced to death by hanging. Peasant and Insurance.

The quartet were tried by court-martial

One of the most curious forms in which wodks, and as much as you like. He wrote the credulity of the Russian peasant maniit out with his own hand, and the excise fests itself is his faith in the insurance find in readiness for her one of the finest LIGHTS PUT OUT IN PARIS man showed it to me. Tomorrow you must agent. This man is looked upon as a great go to the crossroads that lie between this boon in the village, until there has been the hands of the decorators. According to Crimes Increase in Lower Quarter in and Elizabethgrad, just twelve versts away, a fire. Adam Pysk, a well-to-do man, inand take all the bottles you've got. The sured his farm buildings. One hot afterexcise man will be there waiting for you, noon during a heavy storm, lightning set and will give you as much drink as you fire to the cow house. He made no effort to put the fire out, letting it burn The whole village believed this absurd until a "land guardian" (a sort of country story, and nearly drank themselves dead policeman), who happened to be passing, dealing it out gratis, because on the fol- sending for the gendarmes. Neither did lowing day he believed he would get as he make any effort to save his three head nuch as he wanted for nothing. But, of cattle, one of which was suffocated, and refused to drink much, and soon hurried When the agents arrived at the scen off to the next village, saying he had very of the catastrophe, Pysk told them, with a broad smile on his face, that he "had Next day all Piasenko sallied forth at the let everything burn up because he knew appointed hour, laden with water butts and the gentlemen were going to pay for it." every description of vessel they could get But, as a matter of fact, he had only into carry the vodka in, fighting over utensils sured himself for $100, whereas he had as though they were worth their weight allowed the fire to destroy $500 worth of in gold, and blessing the czar and the property. It was some time before the excise man without end. And though the agents could make him understand this, village set out much too soon in the scorch- but when he finally grasped the situation ing sun, they found the high road blocked his language was more forcible than poto choking with people from other villages. lite. Now he goes about on market days Whole regiments of carts were filled with from one friend to another, advising them not to have anything to do with insurance agents because they are thieves, first borrowing your money, and then, when you to its height and waned without a sign of burn your stuff, refusing to give it back. an excise man, the thirsty peasants became Many peasants share his opinion, and one angry, and accused one another of hoaxing. was heard to back him up by declaring: to my stuff, for what is the good of paying them money if you don't get anything out of it?"

IVAN PETERHOF.

over backs. The too-generous kabak keep- Cousin of Marchioness of Zetland Champions Cause of Women in Saloons.

> LONDON, Sept. 26 .- (Special.) -- One of the most talented and interesting of the women who are taking active part in the "Votes for Women" campaign in England at the present moment is the Countess Markievicz. The countess is a comparatively young and exceedingly pretty woman who has made herself the acknowledged leader and champion of the 200,000 and more barmaids, whose existence as such is seriously threatened by would-be reformers. . She has frquently taken the public platform, both in England and in Ireland, her native country, in their defense, and being a capital speaker with a ready wit, she is popular with her audience. It was the countess who organized and was the chief speaker at the big demonstration in Trafalgar square recently on behalf of the barmaids and as a protest against their threatened wholsesale dismissal.

The countess, among her other accomplishments, numbers that of being a good whip. As an ardent suffragette her contribution to the campaign of publicity, which the women's societies have been carrying on in England for some years, is to drive a four-in-hand, the coach of which is profusely decorated with banners, about the streets of the large cities. On the occasion of the big Albert Hall meeting she piloted a four-in-hand through the maze of traffic that is constantly to be found in the Strand, with a skill that excited the admiration of even the 'bus drivers, a class of men who have a superlative opinion of their own superiority in the handling of the reins. The countess also made her appearance on the box of a coach at the now famous by election in northwest Manchester, where Winston Churchill lost his seat in the House of Commons, when he presented himself for re-election.

Countess Markievicz is Irish by birth, be ing the daughter of the late Sir William Henry Gore-Booth, Bart., of Lissadell Sligo. She is an artist and actress and many other things rolled into one. It was while she was studying art in Julien's in Paris that she met the Polish count, Casimir Dunin de Markievicz, with whom she fell in love and whom she afterwards married. The countess's pictures have been exhibited at the Paris salon and at the Dublin academy. Her husband is also an artist and, in addition, a playwright, and it was in one of his plays that his talented wife made her first appearance on the stage.

Besides being a capital whip the counters is a fine horsewoman, and for some years was the only woman permitted to ride in the point-to-point races of the Sligo Harriers. She is very popular in Irish society before her marriage living with the Marquis and Marchioness of Zetland, the lat ter being her cousin.

Name Your Favorite.

Fortunate are the underweights, accord first actions of the moderates upon com- racks. Attached to one of the hattalions ing to the insurance investigations. Morwas General Bykowski, an old officer who tality is lowest among persons 5 per cent The progressives have always insisted that lived in a villa surrounded by a pine wood below standard weight, because they suffer on the outskirts of the the town. One less from heart disease, paralysis, apoplexy came better known, would develop into a night at about 3 o'clock a policeman who and Bright's disease. Pneumonia and tubermoney-maker or at least pay itr own way, was on duty near the villa heard the sound culosis afflict most severely the underbut their opponents are not taking any of breaking glass. Fetching a comrade, weights. Select your favorite diseases and chances, but found it diet accordingly.—Boston Transcript. Smart Suits For Young Men

> THE YOUNG MAN is the best judge of style. Ask a young fellow whether a suit is cut right and made right, and you can depend on getting an answer based on a full knowledge of style and good tailoring.

Our lines of young men's suits sre built to withstand every criti-

The extreme style features 'are carried out.

Coat cut the right length, dip front, wide, long roll collar, whole back or center vent, welt pockets, single and double breasted styles. The new fabrics, tans, olives and browns, in striped and checks, at

$15, $18, $20, $22, $25

Our Windows are a fair example of what this store offers.

We'd be pleased to serve you.

We Make UNIFORMS of all descriptions.

Correct Dress Men and Boys.

Her clothes are hygienic. Even her corsets bring health as well as comfort and styleif she wears the "Nemo." Nemo Corsets

Are Hygienic

If you're stout, the Nemo "Self-Reducing" Corset will give you a youthful, graceful figure, and put you as far into the "Directoire" class as any stout woman ought to go-and will make you healthier.

If you are of slender or medium form, the Nemo "Back-Resting" Corset will give you the flat "new figure" in its perfection, relieve your backache, and bring you comfort such as you never had before-and with improved health.

A FEW OF THE "NEMO" HYGIENIC FEATURES—PATENTED AND EXCLUSIVE

1. Nemo Self-Reducing Straps, being firmly affixed to hooks on the front steels, give positive reduction of abdomen and permanent lines of youthful grace. 2. Nemo Relief Straps, which perfectly support the abdomen and make you comfortable. 3. Nemo Double Garters, which, being attached to the Reducing Straps, prevent the flesh from bulging out below the corset. 4. Nemo Back-Resting Straps (in Model 851 only), which give support at the spot you need it most—the small of the back, right over one of the most important nerve-centres in the body. 5. Nemo Flatning-Back, an ingenious method of securing the utmost slenderness for every figure, with absolute comfort.

There's a Hygienic Nemo for Every Figure-Stout, Slender or Medium NEMO BACK-RESTING CORSET No. 351. A beautiful model, for slender and medium figures. Long, sloping, clinging back, flat hip $3.50 "IT RESTS YOUR BACK" The back steels cannot turn and dig into your flesh. In sizes 18 to 26 . . . .

NEMO SELF-REDUCING CORSET The only corset ever made that positively reduces the abdomen with increased comfort and absolute hygienic safety. The MAKE STOUT WOMEN SLENDER" new Flatning-Back models reduce both abdomen and hips, and make Princesse effects possible to stout figures:

Model No. 312, for tall stout women; No. 320, same model, with Flatning-Back | $3.00 Model No. 314, for short stout women; No. 318, same model, with Flatning-Back No. 516, mercerized brocade; tall stout; No. 518, same material; short stout) $5.00 No. 517, French coutil; tall, Flatning-Back; No. 515, French coutil, bust supporters No. 1000 of finest imported French coutil, new triple reducing straps over hip-$10.00

Nemo Corsets are sold in good stores throughout the world. Ask your dealer. Write us for booklet. "Hygienic Figure-Building." mailed free on request. KOPS BROS., Mfrs., Cor. 4th Avenue and 12th Street, New York.

MORPHINE

Mail Orders Filled By HAYDEN BROS., OMAHA, NEB.

Nº3514

KIONEY, LIVER BLADDER AND STOMACH Try Gold Medal Tilly-Haariem Oil

For 200 years the world's Standard Remedy. Accept no substitute. Look for the words "Genuine Tilly-Haarlein Holland" blown in the bottle. In liquid or capsule form. For sais by SHERMAN & MCCOSMILL DRUG CO., 18th & Dodge Sts., Omaha, Neb., Cor., 18th and Harney Sts., Omaha, Neb.,